Lesson Title: Online Decisions with Real Life Consequences

Instructional Time Required: One Session

Lesson Objectives: Youth should be able to:

- Understand what inappropriate online behavior is.
- Understand the negative consequences of inappropriate behavior online.
- Define what sexting is and explain why it is dangerous.
- Identify the risks of sexting.
- Explain what they would do if their nude or partially nude image or video is leaked online.

Lesson Overview:

This lesson starts with learning about what constitutes inappropriate behavior online and the consequences and risks associated with it. Participants will watch a video called "Teen Voices: Oversharing and Your Digital Footprint" created by Common Sense Education. This video focuses on the assumed normalcy of "oversharing" online and the importance to think about your digital footprint. Participants will learn about what sexting is and the dangers associated with it. It is important to highlight the risks of sexting so that youth understand the seriousness of this topic. Participants will watch a video called "Online Sexual Abuse Can Happen" created by Fight Child Abuse which depicts a young girl experiencing sexual abuse online and via text in her relationship. Participants will learn about NCMEC's "Take It Down" free service, which helps you remove or stop the online sharing of nude, partially nude, or sexually explicit images or videos taken of someone when they were under 18 years old. We recommend staff highlight the significance of this service so that youth can use it if they are ever in this terrible situation. Participants will take know2protect's Pledge2Protect, vowing to stay safe online.

Youth Assessment Recommendations:

- Do you think that sexting is common in most teen relationships?
- What are some inappropriate behaviors to exhibit online?
- What can you do if your nude or partially nude image or video is shared online without your consent?
- List two negative consequences of posting inappropriate things online.
- Do you think the risks outweigh the benefits of sending an inappropriate message online? Why or why not?
